"Say, Lissen"

THE REASON A DRY CISTERNS IS LIKE A BANKRUPT MAN IS BECAUSE BOTH ARE OVER DRAWN.

Must Write on Exams.

All Grade VIII and IX pupils will be required to write the departmental examinations this year instead of being passed on recommendation as has been done for the last few years.

There will be five groups of subjects instead of four in Grade VIII examinations, which is one more than last year when there were only four.

The examination fee for Grade VIII will be one dollar. The fees for Grades IX and X will be $5 and for Grades XI and XII will be $7.

Councillors Elected

There was more interest taken in the nominations for the three Councillors for the town on Monday and four men were brought out to fill these positions. There will be no elections as one of the candidates withdrew in the specified time.

The nominations were as follows:

Alexander Guy.
Henry M. Reiber,
Albert C. Fisher.
A. Willard Axtell.

As Mr. Guy withdrew his nomination this leaves the last three named candidates elected.

Mitchell Cup Comes Back to Town

The rink from Didsbury which attended the Calgary spel were unsuccessful in bringing home any of the jewelry. However they put up many good games, defeating some of the best rinks there and were very nearly in the finals. They very ably upheld the curling name of Didsbury throughout. The rink was composed of E. E. Freeman (skip), J. R. Miller, J. McGhee and D. Shepherd.

On Tuesday night two local rinks went to Olds after the Mitchell Cup which they won from us several weeks ago and have since held. Our boys decided they had had it long enough so brought it back with them. The senior rink was skipped by J. R. Miller with J. Huguet, T. Thompson and H. W. Chambers. They won over Landon of Olds by 19 to 8. Our green rink was skipped by F. Kauffman with B. Holmes, J. Fleury and E. Ford. Their score against Dr. Hartman of Olds was 13 to 15 favor of Olds. Total score 32-23 for Didsbury.

The next Cup game will be played here on Friday night.

AROUND THE TOWN

Miss Dorothy Orde spent the week end in Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rennie were visitors at Red Deer over the week end.

Mrs. G. B. Sexsmith and daughter Thelma were visitors in Calgary over the week end.

H. Reimer's sale advertised for February 14th has been postponed until Saturday, February 23rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Guy attended the Carnival at Calgary during the latter part of the week and were well pleased with all they saw of it.

Among those attending the hockey match in Calgary on Monday night were Messrs. Sawley, J. H. Lowrie, Clint Reiber and Goldie Liesemer.

The ladies of Springside will hold a Leap Year dance on Friday, February 29th. Ladies provide music gentlemen bring cake.

Mr. H. B. Adshead, the well known Calgary economist and ex-Alderman, is visiting with his son C. H. Adshead for a few days.

Mr. W. F. Sick accompanied Mr. T. McDonald to Macleod on Wednesday Mr. McDonald who suffered from a paralytic stroke a few weeks ago is being taken to the Home for Incurables in that city.

Mr. Otto Lemke of Acadia Valley, Alta., who was a visitor here over the week end, returned home Tuesday after a successful business trip west of town.

The town council has lost a good Councillor in the person of Mr. J. V. Berscht who has held this position for some years. It was unfortunate that he could not have been persuaded to accept the position again this year.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Booker will be sorry to learn that their little son Jack is at the Holy Cross Hospital. The little fellow had to undergo a serious operation on Monday but is now getting along fine.

The Jutland W. C. T. U. ladies are holding a parlor meeting and mixed program at the home of Mrs. Ed. Liesemer on Wednesday, February 27th. Lunch will be served and a silver collection taken. All are cordially invited.

The extremely summerlike weather which we have had for some weeks suddenly changed a week ago and since then a heavy fall of snow and low temperatures have been in order. However the snow is very seasonable and will be of great benefit while the low temperature will put a little pep into us again.

Evangelist R. E. Roe, converted cowboy, will conduct a series of Evangelistic Services in the Nazarene church, Didsbury, beginning Thursday evening, February 21st, at 8 o'clock. Service every evening except Saturdays. Sundays 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. All are heartily invited. S. Kaechel, pastor.

The Ladies Aid of Westerdale wish to announce a full evening at the hall, Friday, February 22nd. A short program will be rendered, principally by the new organization, "The Beavers," under the efficient leadership of Miss L. Wiggin, after which a sale of fancy and useful articles will be held. And last but not least, a box social. All welcome, ladies bring boxes.

A letter has been received by the women of Didsbury from Mr. Wood, Superintendent of the Olds Orphanage, asking for one weeks supply of food for the home. The W. C. T. U. and the W. I. have decided to supply this need and ask the assistance of others to help in this worthy cause. Meat, butter, eggs, jam plain groceries and children's clothing will be acceptable. Leave your donations at Mr. J. V. Berscht's store not later than Saturday, February 23.

Much interest is being taken in Jackie Coogan's new picture, "Long Live the King," which will be shown at the Didsbury Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Aikenhead is offering two prizes, one to the girl and one to the boy of the public school who writes the best composition on "How I liked Jackie Coogan in Long Live the King." The compositions are to be handed to Mr. Aikenhead or left at his house not later than Friday, February 29th. They must be written on one side only of foolscap and in judging the compositions writing and spelling will also be considered. A committee of three will decide the winners who will be presented with handsome copies of the book by Mary Roberts Rinehart, "Long Live the King."

Is The West Worth While?

A booklet of fifty pages bearing the above title, written by A. S. Bennett, of Swift Current, was issued a few months ago in which this question was asked, and, from the author's standpoint, answered in vigorous and effective language. The author does not mince matters. While strictly non-partisan in a political sense, he does not hesitate to tell Governments, Federal and Provincial, some home truths; he makes no distinction between East and West in pointing out where their present attitude the one to the other is wrong; while championing the cause of the Western farmer, he sharply criticizes him for his attitude and conduct in relation to the solution of Western agricultural and economic problems.

"Is the West Worth While?" is a thought-provoking little book. It hits right out from the shoulder. It is not necessary to fully agree with all the opinions expressed, nor with all the conclusions reached, in order to say that it is a booklet which can be read with profit by all, and should be studied by people both East and West. If even a small fraction of Canadians occupying places of responsibility and influence in the political, financial, industrial and agricultural branches of our national life gave as careful study to Canada's outstanding problem of today as is evidenced by Mr. Bennett's booklet, it is safe to say that some radical changes would be quickly effected in our body politic.

Is the West worth while? Unfortunately, a goodly number of much disengaged Western farmers would be inclined to answer the question in the negative. And in returning such an answer he would be joined by numerous self-centred, small-minded Eastern Englishmen. The trouble with both these classes is that they fail to look deep enough or far enough abroad to be in a position to give a trustworthy answer.

The West is well worth while—worth while to the men and women in the West, but just as worth while to the financial and manufacturing East. There is nothing the matter with the country itself. It is rich in resources almost boundless in extent and beyond computation and valuation in dollars and cents. The people of Canada, East and West, are alone responsible for the things that are wrong with the West, and which have led people to ask if, after all, the West is worth while. And if they will only make up their minds to do so, and will get together in the right spirit in the doing of it, these wrongs can be quickly righted, and an unanimous verdict in favor of the West rendered. And a verdict for the West is a verdict for the future of the whole Dominion. Without the West the Dominion must stagnate and die.

The first lesson which people must learn, and this is equally true both East and West, is that they must rely less on legislation and Governmental help and more on their own individual efforts and through co-operation as individuals one with another. Our chief domestic ills are not political but economic. True, our economic situation is vitally and adversely affected at present by the international situation, and the settlement of these difficulties are beyond our own control and must be left to statesmen, diplomats, and international economists and experts. But domestic economies are our own concern. The trouble is that instead of grappling with them, we have appealed to Governments and Parliaments to do for us what in so many respects we ought to do for ourselves.

The Eastern manufacturer has for so long relied on the Government to protect his business and guarantee his profits by legislative enactments that he has failed to develop the proper self-reliance and business initiative which alone will bring stability and permanent rather than mushroom growth. As a result the average manufacturer is now fearful of even the slightest change in existing policies and laws. He relies on them more than he does on himself.

Taking a leaf out of the Eastern manufacturer's book, and acting on the principle that what is sauce for the goose is likewise sauce for the gander, the Western farmer has in recent years relied to an alarming extent and to his own undoing on Governmental assistance of one kind or another.

Politicians, of course, are to blame that they allowed themselves to be so influenced as to prostitute the permanent good of all and the future of Canada to these sectional considerations. The final result has been disastrous. Governmental and legislative interference with sound economic laws until today the economic condition of Canada gives ground for serious disquietude, and demands a return to old and tried methods whereby through hard work and initiative by the individual, coupled with an ever increasing measure of sane and legitimate co-operation, success will be attained and permanent progress made, and which can never be accomplished by leaning on Governments to do what the people must do for themselves.

Will Curtail Credits

Long Term Credits Will Be Frowned On By Wholesale Grocers

The discontinuance of long term credits has been decided upon by the wholesalers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, states a report from W. T. Kyle, general manager of the Winnipeg. They have issued advices to the retail trade that terms will be strictly net 30 days or 1 per cent. for 15-day payments. The ruling is retroactive to January 1. Wholesalers point out that this action was made necessary as their own credits have been materially reduced by banking institutions.

For Deeds Of Valor

German Soldiers Smile In Applying for Service Pay

Holders of German medals of valor are entitled to draw 25 marks in legal money monthly from a grateful country's treasury. In pre-war days this was more than $6. Today it is one-forty-billionth part of a German pfennig. But some of the medal-wearers with a grim sense of humor still apply for the payment.

One hero remarked: "It takes some courage for officials to look into the face of a man who risked his life for his fatherland and pay him one forty-billionth of a penny for it."

Moved Coal In Summer

C.P.R. Hauled 3,300,000 Tons of Coal in West During Slack Period

In 1923 the Canadian Pacific Railway Company moved more than 3,300,000 tons of coal in the west, according to a statement recently issued.

Officials of the departments concerned state that a new policy was experimented with this season, which included the moving of coal east from Alberta during the summer months when freight traffic was less heavy than in autumn. The coal was brought to its destination and stored in piles until the crop commenced to move, then was drawn upon by the railway company and for commercial purposes.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often stormy that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches cold which racks his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels, and break up colds. The new sales tax will not increase the price of Baby's Own Tablets, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the Tablets through any medicine dealer at 25 cents a box, or by mail post paid from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

People Now Live Longer

60,000 People in Great Britain Are Over 85 Years of Age

People are living longer, according to Sir Kingsley Wood.

Speaking at a women's meeting at Eltham, Sir Kingsley said that one of the bright spots in our national affairs was that we were never such a healthy nation in our history. Since the beginning of the century the infantile mortality rate had gone down from 50 to 50 per 1,000.

There were 600,000 people over 70 years of age and 60,000 over 85. These results were due to the advance of public sanitation and personal hygiene. Nothing would improve national health more than steady employment and renewed prosperity.

Fighting For the Cause

Not Necessary that Both Parties to a War Are Criminals

Modern war is a great evil, an evil that threatens the very existence of civilization. It is true, too, that most wars could have been avoided, the one from which the world is still suffering certainly could have been. We may even go so far as to say that war is a crime, but that does not mean that both parties to a given war are criminals, which seems to be the idea of the amiable men who voted against doing their duty as citizens. Criminal governments may force war on other governments that would themselves be criminal if they did not resist.—Indianapolis News.

Prevalence of Flat Feet

Dr. Flora Shepherd, lecturing at Carnegie House, spoke of the prevalence of flat feet among children and particularly among girls: "Out of every 100 feet examined," she said, "I expect to find at least fifty impaired and yet there ought to be no flat feet in this country."

Returns From Graded Hogs

An agricultural representative in close touch with the hog raising situation in Bruce County, Ontario, reports that by shipping a carload of hogs on a graded basis the farmers who contributed the stock gained approximately $80 over the flat rate of shipping which up to that time had been the rule. The load in question graded 75 per cent. selects and the balance thick smooths.

EXPERT SPEAKS ON PROBLEMS OF THE FARMER

Saskatoon—In advising farmers how to deal with the present situation affecting the production of grain and livestock in Western Canada, Hugh J. Hughes, of the market branch, department of agriculture for Minnesota, at the sessions of the Saskatchewan Agricultural Society convention said: "Live as well as possible, develop the home market, put your acres to work, produce what the world wants, foster co-operative marketing and spend freely."

He declared at the outset of his address, that the feeling that farm conditions are uniformly unfavorable, is far from correct. Mr. Hughes is director of marketing of the department of agriculture, Minnesota, and is a recognized authority in his chosen branch of work. He made his address the occasion for stock taking of farming conditions in the Canadian western provinces.

The cotton growers of the United States, of India, of Egypt and Brazil," said the speaker, "are now enjoying a marked wave of prosperity. The growers of tobacco are not looking about for economic relief. The wool producer the world over is sharing the prosperity that is common to those products in which the consumptive demand outruns the supply. Dairy products, including butter, cheese and eggs likewise are sharing in this general tide of prosperity. Insofar as world production and trade are concerned our nearness to the problems of livestock and grain productions make us feel acutely a situation that is more or less local, and I will confine myself to the survey of conditions that affect directly the great agricultural industries of your western provinces, the production of grain and livestock."

For the remainder of his address Mr. Hughes confined himself to three phases of the question: first, the unfavorable factors that affect our grain and livestock farming; second, the factors that are in our favor; and third, how to adapt ourselves to the situation.

Dealing with the advantages enjoyed by the Western Canadian grain farmer, Mr. Hughes stated that one of the most outstanding was the soil and climate permitting the production of grain carrying the highest protein content. "The Canadian farmer," he added, "can produce more food per man than any other farmer on the globe. He is something like six to eight times as efficient as the best farmer in continental Europe. It is this man and farm efficiency that enables him to place his product on the world's markets with the competition of the peasant labor of Siberia, the painstaking, diligent labor of Central Europe and the cheap lands and extensive farming operations of Australia and the Argentine."

No Cruelty In This Method of Poultrymen

Ottawa.—Local poultry lovers and officials of the Humane Society are discussing the recent decision of the Illinois Humane Society that it is cruelty to have electric lights burning in henhouses thereby forcing hens to lay. Commenting on the subject, Dr. J. S. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, said that there was no law to stop poultry raisers forcing their hens to lay under artificial lighting conditions. "I don't see any signs of cruelty in it," asserted Dr. Grisdale. "We have been doing it for years at the experimental farm."

Says Entente Is Useless

Professor Wrong, of Toronto University, Declares It Is Not in Empire's Interest

Toronto—"The sooner Great Britain's entente with France comes to an end, the better it will be in the interests of the British Empire," declared Prof. George M. Wrong, of Toronto University, speaking here from his personal observations in Europe during the summer. He declared that the statement came after careful consideration and with no thought of hostility toward France. It was vain, he continued, for two people to go on saying that they agree when they know they do not agree. "Great Britain must stand by herself as she has done in the past," he said.

Swollen Joints, Quickly Limbered Up

Rub On Nerviline

You would be surprised at the wonderful action of "Nerviline" in just such cases. Being thin and not an oil preparation, it is able to penetrate quickly, and down it sinks into the tissues, carrying its healing, soothing action wherever it goes. For stopping muscular or nerve pain, for easing a stiff joint, Nerviline is a complete success. Pain, soreness, stiffness all vanish before the magic power of this wonderful liniment. Nearly fifty years of success proves the merit of Nerviline, which is sold everywhere in large 35 cent bottles.

To Have Legal Status

Pope Pius Ready To Conclude Agreement With France

Rome.—The Giornale d'Italia announces that Pope Pius is ready to conclude an agreement with France in the matter of accepting the proposed diocesan associations as proposed by France, and which will give legal status to the Roman Catholic Church in France, for the first time since the passage of the Law of Associations Bill. The negotiations have been going on between the Holy See and the French Government for several years, the newspaper says, but the Pontiffs prior to Pius have been unable to agree on the recognition of the associations.

Should Get Settlers

Regin.—With greater co-operation and co-ordination of effort between the government and the railways, coupled with conditions on the other side of the Atlantic, Canada should get a large influx of settlers from Great Britain and other European countries during the coming season, in the opinion of D. C. Coleman, of Winnipeg, vice-president and general manager of C.P.R. western lines, interviewed here.

It has shown clearly what happens to a golf ball when struck by a club head. The ball is pressed flat on one side during the 1,200 part of a second that the driver is in contact with its hard surface.

Saved Berlin From Capture

American Officer Declares Foch Was Against Invasion of German Capital

New York.—Marshal Foch personally saved Berlin from an invasion by allied troops after the victorious drives, just before the Armistice in 1918, it was revealed by Major-General Henry T. Allen, former commander of the United States Army of Occupation.

Foch's reason for not taking Berlin, General Allen said, "was that it would have been a gigantic task to hold the vast territory, which included Hanover and other large cities."

Before deciding the question, General Allen said, the French marshal conferred with Field-Marshal Haig, Marshal Petain, and General Pershing.

Upward Trend of Prices

Slight Increase in the Cost of Living Is Shown

Ottawa.—Figures compiled by the Federal Labor Department show that the average cost of a weekly family budget of twenty-nine staple foods was $10.73, at the beginning of December, as compared with $10.69 for November; $10.39 for December, 1922; $11.00 for December, 1921; $16.92 for June, 1920, the peak; and $7.96 for December, 1914.

In wholesale prices the index number, calculated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, based upon prices in 1913 as 100, stood at 153.5 for December as compared with 153.3 for November; 150.9 for December, 1922; 154.3 for December, 1921; and 256.9 for May, 1920, the peak.

Safety On English Railways

Remarkable Record Is Attained In Protecting Lives of Passengers

London.—There was only one railway accident in England involving loss of life during 1923, according to the Railway Gazette. This was at Diggle in July when two passengers were killed.

Since the beginning of the present century there have been two years, 1901 and 1908—without a single fatality to passengers.

In only three years have more than five people been killed and in 23 years the number of deaths totals only 73.

Fight Manitoba Income Tax

Winnipeg.—There will be a fight in the Legislature over the provincial income tax act, passed last year, it became evident when J. Kensington Downes, Independent, introduced a bill for the repeal of the measure. Mr. Downes has been assured of the support of a good many members, it is understood, while the government has announced its intention of collecting the tax and has practically completed arrangements for so doing.

Need Water Supply

Moose Jaw.—Warning to Moose Jaw and Regina that future development of the two cities was vitally dependent upon speedy acquisition of adequate water supply was given by D. C. Coleman, vice-president and general manager of western lines, C.P.R., at the annual meeting of Moose Jaw Board of Trade.

Still Going Strong

Kingston, Ont.—Two octogenarians provided much fun when they donned skates, performed stunts and staged a race on the Bay of Quinte at Deseronto recently. They were Wesley Post, 84, and Eli McCabe, 83. The latter, who won the race, wore a pair of skates made 60 years ago by the village blacksmith.

SEES DISASTER IN ENTRY OF A LABOR PARTY

Montreal.—While it seems inevitable that a Socialistic Labor Government must come into power in Great Britain, Sir Robert Horn, former British chancellor of the exchequer, in an address to the Canadian Club here, urged that even if such a government should come, the two other great parties should promptly sink their differences and, as patriots, rather than politicians, should join issue to dismiss such a government before it could do injury to the country. He predicted that a Liberal Government would then come in, led by Asquith and Lloyd George, while the Conservatives would lend sufficient support to ensure a sane and stable government that would preserve British credit at home and abroad.

Sir Robert was especially severe in his arraignment of the idea of a capital levy, as a plan that would destroy both British business and credit.

"For my part I see nothing but disaster from the entry of the Labor Socialists into office," he said, "and conditions will be worse than they are today." He added that this was the reason why he was at odds with those who say it does not matter, and would let Labor form a government for a while. "These Socialists," he said, "have no right to form a government, since they do not represent a third of the people," and he challenged their claim to alone have the right to form a government as a monstrous thing.

At 80 Years Of Age Was Troubled With Shortness Of Breath Palpitation Of The Heart And Fainting Spells

Mrs. M. O'Connor, Whitestone, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled, most of my life, with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and fainting spells. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I did, and at once found relief, and I have never had a really bad spell since."

I am 80 years of age and always keep them in the house, and when I feel any symptoms of my old trouble coming on all I have to do is to take a few doses. With the help of your Pills I expect to see many years yet. I always recommend them to any one who is suffering from heart trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price, by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

President of Fruit Jobbers

Winnipeg.—C. W. McKelvie, of Edmonton, was elected president of the Western Canada Fruit Jobbers' Association at the closing session of the organization's convention here.

Big Programme of Organized Winter Sport in Canada

GOING DOWN! SPEEDY TRAVELING BY TOBOGGANS ON QUEBEC'S SLIDES

WINTER in Canada is synonymous with winter sports.

With the advent of ice and snow these sports begin; skis, sleds, toboggans, skates, snowshoes and hockey sticks, together with warm, gay sport costumes, make their appearance. A psychological change takes place in the social atmosphere, merriment radiates its contagion, briskness characterizes all outdoor movement.

For many years Quebec and Mont Royal have been Mecca for a large number of winter sport lovers, who flock to these two cities on the St. Lawrence during carnival seasons. There are, however, many other Canadian points where organized sport is a winter feature. St. John has its skating tournament in which many professionals participate. Sherbrooke, Quebec, has planned an elaborate skiing contest and is providing some splendid trophies as awards.

Grey Rocks Inn, an all-the-year-round resort in the Laurentian Mountains, 85 miles northwest of

MONTREAL GIRLS ARE EXPERTS ON SNOWSHOES

Royal, in the former, provides an unexcelled playground where skiing, snowshoeing, bob-sledding and tobogganing may be enjoyed at their best. Skating contests, torchlight festivities on the Mountain and the presence of professional entertainers, provide amusement for Montrealers and visitors.

Quebec is really the Capital of Winter Sports in Canada, its Dufferin Terrace and Chateau Frontenac are names to conjure with among winter sport devotees all over Canada and the United States.

The three-track toboggan slide on the Terrace is generally the centre of attraction and crowds line its sides to watch the swift flying toboggans. A fine ski-jump, a skating rink, indoor and outdoor curling, contests and parades by the many ski and snowshoe clubs fill every waking hour. A team of husky dogs with sleigh and driver is maintained by the Chateau management for the use of the public.

Quebec's carnival will end in a riot of excitement when the third Eastern International Dog-Team Derby is run there on Feb. 21, 22 and 23. Both Canadian and American teams to the number of about eighteen, will strive to win the Gold Cup, Silver Cup and $2,000 in prize money.

A black and white portrait of Captain Samuel Robinson, a man with dark hair and a mustache, wearing a naval officer's uniform with a peaked cap and a sword belt.

"THE story of the Japanese earthquake disaster made appeal to Canadians for many reasons, and the Government of this Dominion did not hesitate to lend practical aid to the sufferers in stricken Japan, which staggered under one of the worst disasters in history. A ceremony the other day in New York, which gave recognition to Captain Samuel Robinson, who was in command of the Canadian Pacific steamer "Empress of Australia," which happened to be in the harbor of Yokohama at the time of the disaster, is particularly interesting, bringing to light the fact that this gallant officer of the mercantile marine was instrumental in the rescue of approximately three thousand persons. Honor to whom honor is due has been worthily and fittingly done in the presentation of the C.B.E. by the British Consul-General at New York, in the presence of a distinguished gathering, which included Mr. E. W. Beatty, Mr. Grant Hall and other high officials of the C.P.R. Canadians cannot help feeling a thrill of pride when reading the odyssey of Captain Samuel Robinson. The spirit which inspired Columbus and Vasco de Gama and M. Gerbault pervades the officers and the men of the British mercantile marine, and the gallantry of Canadian sailors today is not altogether different from what imbued those old seamen—Phoenicians, Vikings, Portuguese, Italians—who risked their lives in the earlier days. The world, we sometimes lament, has no more mysteries left and nothing more for explorers to do. From China to Peru, from Pole to Pole, all is known and mapped and even photographed. But we need not fear that British seamen will lose their gallantry and daring of past history because there are no more worlds to conquer. How many Canadian boys growing up today will read with a thrill of pride of the achievements of the officers and men of the good ship Empress of Australia in a time of great trial and difficulty in the burning waters of Yokohama—and will want to grow up and, if the occasion demands it in the days of the future, go and do likewise.

The old famous sea captains, Columbus and Drake, and all the rest who are gone "to the haven under the hill" did their work nobly, manfully and well, with their crews to help them. Captain Robinson appeared as an editorial in the "Montreal Gazette," and is but one of many recognitions of his heroic actions. The passengers of the "Empress of Australia" have presented to the Pacific liner a tablet which commemorates the part she, her captain and crew took in the relief and rescue work at the time of the disaster, and prior to the sailing from New York on January 30 of the "Empress of Canada," which he now commands on world cruise, the American Metropolis honored the intrepid Commander at various luncheons and dinners, and demonstrated that his heroism has won for him universal respect and admiration. Canadian boys may, indeed, read with a thrill of pride of the achievements of the officers and men of the "Empress of Australia."

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

July brought us two visitors, Maudie accepted my invitation for two weeks of her holiday, and when she went back to the city Teddy came out. The Mowbrays had company too, a niece of Mrs. Mowbray's, Lilah Armstrong by name.

I was coward enough to have some misgivings regarding Maudie's visit. Our friendship, old and precious as it is, was not based on community of tastes so much as on propinquity, and I wondered if she would fail to recognize what was good in our simple life and would see only the unavoidable crudities and inconveniences. Then, too, she and Murray scarcely knew each other. She had been just little bit jealous of him and he, after he came home, had been in no condition to overcome anyone's prejudices. Perhaps, too, Murray was rather lacking in appreciation of Maudie's good points, for generous, loyal soul that she is, Maudie is somewhat limited in certain respects, and one needs to know her as I do to estimate her at her full worth.

As has so often happened, my fears were wasted. Maudie was so glad to see me, so enthusiastic over Herrington's Hope, and so absolutely slavish in her devotion to the twins, that one admitted that she had improved—never, of course, that he had been mistaken!

The Jones' have always had a very nice home, somewhat lacking in books and pictures but with the latest thing in furniture and electrical appliances, but Maudie "loved" my four-roomed cottage and never once seemed to miss the things to which she had always been accustomed.

And such talks as we had—all day long and far into the night. Maudie was not a brilliant correspondent and I had been too busy, and sometimes

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run-down. I had headaches and no appetite and was troubled for two years with sleeplessness. I tried many medicines, but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a stranger to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

Feels New Life and Strength

Keene, N. H.—"I was weak and run-down and had backache and all sorts of troubles which women have. I found great relief when taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am able to do my work and feel new life and strength from the Vegetable Compound. I am doing all I can to advertise it."—Mrs. A. F. HAMMOND, 72 Carpenter Street, Keene, N. H.

Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

too unsettled, to write a great many letters, and so we had a great deal to tell each other.

Maudie was still in her father's office, and it seems likely that she will remain there. She is not needed at home and she has, rather surprisingly, discovered in herself the same capacity for detail that makes "Uncle Frank" so invaluable in his position. Her father's business, she told me, had been hard hit by the war, and for the last year she had drawn only a little more than half of her salary, and Mr. Jones had given her shares in the company for the balance.

"Reg does not care for Real Estate," she explained, "he wants to be a doctor, so Daddy and I are really partners, and he tells me that the next time we order stationery my name is to go on the letter-heads. When you come back to Winnipeg, Margaret Anne, I'll take a list of houses and suites and my little Ford, and first thing you know I'll have you settled. Dad says I am making good, but of course he carries all the financial responsibility—my particular 'line' is fitting a prospective tenant or buyer into a suitable house, a woman knows so much better than a man just what will appeal to another woman. Business is very dull, but I feel that I am earning my salary, and it would amuse you to hear Daddy and Uncle Frank boasting about me."

In spite of my fondness for Maudie I had been clasping her with the girls who work for pin-money and who might better stay at home and allow their positions to be filled by those who really need the salary. I confessed and apologized and Maudie was very magnanimous.

"I did belong to that class at first," she explained, "but I became more and more interested in the work itself as the months went by, and by the time it was necessary for me to work it would have been a real hardship to go back to my lazy life. And there's another thing, Margaret Anne, Dad has never cut his staff—that is one of the reasons for our being so 'short' just now. So I do not need to feel that I am taking someone else's place.

"It is rather strange, isn't it?" Maudie went on. "You used to talk about a business career, and it was the last thing I thought of. And now here you are on an out-of-the-way farm, with a husband and two children, while I am a budding Captain of Industry."

"Oh, oh, oh, it's a lovely war!" I sang.

"That's it exactly, agreed Maudie, "the war has turned us all to the right-about."

"But, Maudie," I said, "you are not overlooking matrimony in your choice of a career, are you? Do you remember what Mother used to say that while the work was hard the rewards were great?"

Maudie shook her head.

"Nothing like that for me," she replied decisively. "Fifty thousand of the men of our generation did not come home, and that means fifty thousand women left over. I am quite content to be one of them. Judging by what I have seen, the competition in the matrimonial market is going to be keener than in Real Estate, so I'll stay as I am, thank you. And single blessedness is hereditary in our family, as you should know," she finished with a laugh.

"Good old B.F." I said, "do you think he has quite forgiven me?"

"Quite," Maudie assured me. "He has taken to stamp-collecting now and is as keen about it as if he were a small boy—will spend a happy half-hour correcting my geography when I put Senegambia among the German colonies. I don't think I'll ever be a good collector, my hobby just now is interior decorating—when times improve I plan to go away for a short course and then I'll be ready to decorate and furnish the houses I rent and sell. I'll charge a good commission, of course, any woman who is foolish enough to let someone else furnish her home should be made to pay well for her folly.

"Oh, I'm not going to be a sour old maid, Margaret Anne, don't worry about that. It is just as I read once, that it is the easiest death once you quit struggling!"

Maudie protested too much, I thought, but I could not force her confidence so I let the conversation drift to other subjects.

In the old days Maudie had worshipped, shyly and from afar, at the shrine of Leslie Ormond, and for the past year she had seldom written to me without mentioning that she had been to Deer Lodge Hospital to see him. That meant little in one way, had I been in Winnipeg I should have gone too, for Leslie was one of our old circle, one of the jolliest and most popular of the boys who had gone overseas and come home sadly broken. When he came back, Maudie explained modestly, he found her the only one of the girls left. And Maudie, I imagine, cared nothing for what people might say or think so long as she might do anything for him, for the gallant wreck that was all that was left of the Leslie I had known, was not able to move from his bed in the hospital. There, sometimes suffering acutely, sometimes free from pain, but always helpless, he lay and waited for the release that Death alone could bring.

His own people, farmer-folk, lived near Deloraine, and though they were devoted to him they could not always be with him. And Maudie, it appeared, filled all the gaps and left nothing undone that would make his days happier.

"He is just as bright and clever as ever," she said in her matter-of-fact way, "and interested in everything that goes on. I always read bits of

"My Back Aches"

It is not much wonder that the mother in the home has backaches and headaches when you think of the multiplicity of work and worries she has from morning until night and from week to week.

But pains and aches come from poisons in the system and if the kidneys and liver were doing their duty as filters of the blood the poisoning would not remain there.

This is why it is usual to blame the kidneys and the liver for backache, headache, rheumatism etc.

The way to get rid of such pains and aches, then, is by arousing the action of the kidneys and liver and this is most promptly and most certainly done by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

By using this popular medicine you can usually obtain relief in a few hours.

You will realize then the advisability of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills once or twice a week so as to keep these vital organs active and ensure that the poisonous waste matter is promptly removed from the system.

In most homes this medicine is kept constantly on hand for use in case of emergency. Not a bad idea, is it?

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been increased to 35 cents, the box now contains 35 pills instead of 25 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is 60 cents a box of 60 pills, instead of 50 cents a box for 50 pills. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

your letters to him, and I just wish I could take Nicolas back for him to see—he raves about his sister's little girl and she is not half as sweet as Nicolas.

I have always been half afraid of men, you know, but he is different somehow. He is just like a child sometimes, especially when he wants something that I think would not be good for him—he always gets it, of course."

"He would," I agreed, "they always do." And I tried to picture Leslie Ormond of his college days the helpless cripple that Maudie described.

In all this there was, I must admit, little to justify my suspicion. But Maudie's manner meant more than what she said. Hers is a single-track mind, and, while she was doubtless quite honest in saying that she never thought of marriage, her possessive air, and the way in which it slipped out that she had chosen this particular time for her holidays because Mrs. Ormond was to be with her son, made it clear enough to me that she had assumed certain rights and responsibilities. What there might be between her and Leslie I could not guess, but if they had been an old married couple like Murray and me she could not have spoken so very differently.

It was very sad, I thought. For the present it was possibly enough for Maudie to have Leslie dependent on her for his happiness, but in the long years that stretched ahead of her . . . she was braver than I, I told myself, had I lost Murray I do not think I could have taken a really intelligent interest in the Real Estate market.

Nothing occurred to spoil Maudie's visit. The weather was hot, but clear and dry, and all the little outings I had planned were accomplished without a disappointing incident. Maudie was a perfect country visitor, she never worried about sunburn or tan or clothes, and she enjoyed everything from our strawberry picnic to an exceedingly informal tennis tournament that we got up on the spur of the moment one Saturday afternoon. And she made friends with all the neighbors in a way that amazed me—"You do not know Miss Jones, the Real Estate man," she explained when I spoke of her new-found ability to converse freely with strangers.

For our strawberry picnic we drove to a place four miles northeast of here, where the fire had run through the previous year and where the wild berries grew in unbelievable luxuriance. It is a fact that as we drove from the trail to the shady spot where we intended to have lunch the wheels of the wagon brought up crushed clusters of the berries, and Mrs. Mowbray and Jean said that they had never before seen them so plentiful.

Interesting Stories For Young Folks

Published By Permission
Thomas Allen, PublisherTHANKLESSNESS

There is a fable of a lion that lay hot and tired, trying to sleep, when some field mice ran over his body and made him so mad he clapped down his paw and was going to tear it when the little mouse pled for mercy in such a way that the lion set him free.

Sometime later he heard a great roaring and found it was the lion caught by hunters in a great net. He remembered the mercy of the lion, and telling him not to fear, he set to work with his little sharp teeth and gnawed away at the cords and knots of the trap and set the lion free.

It is fine to be thankful.

It is even finer to prove it by doing things that make others thankful.

Be thankful for home, and school, for church and gospel.

Be thankful you are not children in a heathen land.

Be thankful for your happy girl and boy life.

Be thankful God cares for you.

A minister once told a bishop of a wonderful escape he had from a burning ship. He called it a "great providence of God."

"Yes," said the bishop, "but I know a greater. I know a ship where nothing happened and it arrived safely." That was God's providence, too, for which he was thankful.

And all your life God is watching over you.

Are you thankful?

And do you show it by helping others and being kind to those who are kind to you?

There is a legend from Norway, that wonderful sea-washed land in Europe, so full of tales that girls and boys like, it is called the legend of the "Gertrude Bird."

It is a woodpecker that is said to have been a woman once, who was making bread, when two men passed by who happened to be Christ and His disciple Peter, although she did not know.

They asked for some of the dough, for they had had a long walk and fast; and she pinched a piece off when lo, it grew till it filled the bake box.

So she said, "No, that is too much," and pinched a piece off it, when the same thing happened! Three times it happened, and each time she got more selfish and bad and stingy. At last, as she saw how much dough she was getting, she said to the two strangers,

"I cannot give you any. Go on, you can't stop here!"

They passed on and then she knew them; and oh, she got humble and sorry, and fell down asking for pardon, and the Christ said, "I gave you much, but you had no thanks. Now I'll try poverty. After this you must get your food between the bark and the tree. But because you are sorry, when your clothing is all black with your sorrow, it will stop, because then you will have learnt to be thankful!"

And so she was punished for a while by becoming a woodpecker, picking her food between the bark and the tree, until as she grew older her back and wings all got black; and then God turned them all white again!

Dear girls and boys, God loves you and me to be thankful!

To Raise Scuttled Ships

German Warships Sunk at Scapa Flow Will Be Salvaged

A Queensboro, Kent, firm has entered into a contract with the Admiralty to raise 68 German warships sunk at Scapa Flow. Most of the warships, when raised, will be sold to the ship-breakers, while the others will be used by the admiralty for target practice.

The crews of the German warships scuttled the vessels when interned by Admiral Jellicoe on June 21, 1919.

Reason For Optimism

Attention Is Drawn to Canada's Enviable Financial Condition

A spirit of optimism should be manifested at the present time in view of the fact that the commerce of the Dominion is excellent, according to Hon. Thomas Low, minister of commerce.

"Why should we not be optimistic?" Mr. Low asked. "Our exports exceeded our imports by $150,000,000, a situation very encouraging for a young country like ours. Our commerce in 1900 reached $116,000,000 in value, but today it reaches $980,000,000. Our national debt was considerably augmented during the war, but it must be remembered that 80 per cent. of it is owed to the people of the Dominion who receive the interest, thus keeping the money in the country. Our per capita debt is lower than that of any other country in the world. All these things are an indication that we should face the future with a great deal of confidence."

WEAK ANAEMIC WOMEN

What They Need to Restore Good Health and Vitality

The woman who feels tired out, who aches all over when she rises in the morning, who feels depressed most of the time, needs the help that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give her—new, rich blood and stronger nerves. The number of disorders caused by poor blood is amazing, and most women are careless about the condition of their blood. Their nerves are quickly affected; they worry over trifles and do not obtain refreshing sleep.

There may be stomach troubles and headaches; shortness of breath and a fluttering of the heart. This is a condition that calls for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the blood-improving, nerve-restoring tonic.

Mrs. William Henry Lovett Street, London, Ont., has proved the value of these pills, and says:

"I had a very severe attack of anaemia. I was always tired and the least thing would make me sick at the stomach. I could hardly go about and suffered terrible pains in my legs from cramps. I had no color in my face and was as white as a sheet.

The doctor gave me several kinds of medicine, but could not understand why I did not get results from it. Then I went to a hospital and was there for three months, but came home no better than when I went.

My friends were worried and feared consumption.

While I was still in this condition a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I tried them and after a time felt they were helping me, and I gladly continued their use, and am thankful to say that I am again a well woman, and I firmly believe that had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not have got better."

The new sales tax will not increase the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the pills through any medicine dealer at 50 cents a box, or by mail, post paid, at this price, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Operating Revenue Gains

Official figures covering Canadian railway operations from January to the end of October, 1923, show that Canadian National lines have increased their operating revenues by $5,117,741, and the entire system, including the lines in the United States, increased the net operating revenues from $3,823,007 to $12,021,285. Canadian lines of the C.N.R. converted a deficit of $315,952 into a net operating revenue of $4,801,788 during the time reviewed and the net earnings of the American lines of the Canadian National Railways jumped from $3,823,007 to $7,219,496.

Record of Italian Aviation Corps In Recent Campaign in Tripoli

A marvellous record was established by the Italian aviation corps in the recent battles in Tripoli against the tribesmen, when the various craft of the corps covered in excess of 250,000 miles and were in the air 2,630 hours.

During the operations and in the face of enemy anti-aircraft guns, the Italian machines transported to the troops more than 75 tons of supplies and munitions, dropped 716 bombs and carried two tons of mail. These facts are set forth in a statement issued by the commissioner of aeronautics.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 27

Israel Caved at the Red Sea

Golden Text.—Jehovah is my strength and song.
And he is become my salvation.
Exodus 15:2.

Lesson.—Exodus 12:37 to 18:27.
Devotional Reading.—Psalm 106:1-9.

The Lesson Text Explained and Illuminated

1. The Israelites Cross the Red Sea, verses 21, 22. As God used natural means (the various plagues) to effect the escape of the Israelites from the hand of Pharaoh, so at the Red Sea He made use of a strong east wind blowing all night to lay bare a broad strip of the sea bottom. "Until lately I had no conception of how easily this could be accomplished; but our engineers on Lake Erie find that a southwest storm will blow the water down at Toledo eight feet and make it eight feet higher at Buffalo; while a strong wind in the other direction will produce an opposite effect—a total variation of about sixteen feet being produced under varying conditions" (G. F. Wright).

The place is thought to have been the shallow strait connecting the Bitter Lakes with the Red Sea. Dummett recalls—an Egyptian tradition which says that Moses waited for the ebb tide in order to lead the Israelites to cross; the waters were a wall, a defense, on both sides of them which prevented the Egyptians from making a flank attack.

"It would have been as easy to have transported the Israelites bodily and instantaneously to the other side of the sea, as to have taken these precautions and cleft the ocean, and make them march through it. Legendary miracle would have preferred the former way. The Bible miracle usually adapts methods to aims, and is content to travel to its goal step by step" (MacLaren).

"Suppose we set aside the miraculous incident for a moment and ask: What does the writer mean to convey by his words? He means to convey this lesson: namely, that a way was found where a way was supposed to be impossible. The doctrine is verifying and illustrating itself every day in the history of every man. When our poor life has been driven up to a point from which there seemed to be no escape, God has shown an opening in the rock, or a way through the deep; and we who expected to perish have been enabled to enter upon larger liberties. Who will swear to that? I will. Ten thousand times ten thousand witnesses will avouch it. You can never by symbol, or dream, or romantic art, represent the whole truth which we have realized as to the delivering, protecting, preserving, redeeming Providence of God" (Joseph Parker).

"It is amazing what a blessing the things that we dreaded most become to us, when we go straight toward them at the call of God! If we want to walk dry shod, with a wall shielding us on either hand, the better way is to plunge right overboard into a sea of work on, of trial or of peril when God says, 'Go forward'" (H. C. Trumbull).
